STUDY VISIT & PHOTOGRAPHIC WORKSHOP

REMEMBERING INTERNMENT: LE FRASCHETTE CAMP AND POLITICS OF MEMORY

STUDY VISIT & PHOTOGRAPHIC WORKSHOP

Join us for a four-day international study visit and photographic workshop in Italy exploring the history and memory of the Le Fraschette internment camp near Alatri — one of Italy's largest Fascist-era camps — and its postwar role as a Displaced Persons centre.

Participants will engage in lectures, discussions, field visits, and hands-on photography workshops examining a place of Fascist internment, forced displacement, and the politics of memory and forgetting in Europe.

This is a unique opportunity to learn, reflect, and help give international visibility to a neglected site of European history, through the lenses of a camera.

Objectives of the study visit & workshop:

- Reconstruct and interpret the history of Fascist internment in occupied Yugoslav territories and the complex legacy of Le Fraschette — from repression to postwar displacement.
- Critically examine memory, heritage, and representation, including the ethics and aesthetics of photographing ruined sites of violence
- Give international visibility to the Le Fraschette site in its current state of ruin, supporting efforts for its preservation through creative documentation and public engagement.

More information on the Fraschette camp are available at:

https://www.campifascisti.it/scheda_campo.php?id_campo=58

The activity is organized as part of the project "Power of Personal Stories in Confronting Oblivion (PPSCO)", funded by the European Union through the programme CERV - European Remembrance.
